

British Recapture the Village of Bullecourt

Strategic Point on Hindenburg Line Again Falls Into Hands of British After Terrible Battle

Violent Counter Attacks of Teutons Are Hurlled Back—German Army Commanded by Crown Prince Make Attack Near Rheims But Not Only Fails To Make Gains, In Spite of Heavy Losses, But Is Pushed Back Further by French Troops.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

LONDON, May 13.—Most of the village of Bullecourt, in the Hindenburg Line, is now in the hands of the British, who also, according to the official report from headquarters in France, occupied the western section of Roex.

The text of the report reads: "Early this morning the enemy made two further counter attacks upon our positions in the Hindenburg Line east of Bullecourt. In both cases his attacking troops were repulsed and left a number of dead in front of our trenches. "During the past ten days the Australian troops have gallantly maintained their positions in this sector of the Hindenburg Line, having during that period repelled at least twelve determined hostile counter attacks.

"The greater part of the village of Bullecourt, which lies in the Hindenburg Line is now in our hands. North of the Scarpe our troops established themselves during the day in the western houses of Roex, and again made progress on the western slopes of Greenland Hill capturing a few prisoners.

"Five German airplanes were brought down in air fighting yesterday; five others were driven down out of control. One other hostile machine was shot down in our lines by our anti-aircraft guns. Six of our machines are missing.

Crown Prince's Army Smashed.

PARIS, May 13.—Troops commanded by the German crown prince this morning launched several violent attacks against the French lines on the Champagne front north of Rheims, on the plateau south of Craonne and in the region of Maisons de Champagne. The statement issued this afternoon by the French war office says all the German attacks were smashed by the French artillery and rifle fire, the Teutons suffering heavy losses.

The text of the statement follows: "Lively activity was shown by both artilleries in the course of the night between the Somme and the Oise, as well as on the Aisne front.

"This morning the enemy delivered violent attacks on the plateau of Craonne, north of Rheims and in the region of Maisons de Champagne. All these attacks were broken up by our artillery and the infantry fire and the Germans were pushed back after suffering heavy losses. We made some prisoners.

"In the region of Verdun we executed a surprise attack which was entirely successful and which procured for us a number of prisoners. On the rest of the front the night was calm."

German Official Report.

BERLIN, May 13.—The text of the statement reads: "Great attacks of the English have been broken down.

"After very strong artillery preparation which extended throughout the whole battlefield of Arras, from Lens to Quant, the English in the early morning attacked the lines between Gavrelle and the Scarpe, astride the Arras-Cambrai road and near Bullecourt. At Roex they were successful in forcing an entry, but at all other points they were repulsed by our fire and hand to hand fighting and sustained the heaviest losses.

"In the evening several fresh attacks were made on both sides of Monchy. These, likewise, broke down with sanguinary losses.

PRES. WILSON TELLS WHY U.S. IS AT WAR

Believe Very Principles Upon Which Republic Was Founded Are At Stake.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

WASHINGTON, May 13.—President Wilson said in a public address here yesterday that the struggle against Germany "means, in brief, the struggle for the principles upon which the American republic was founded."

"We will accept no advantage out of this war," he said, "because we believe the very principles upon which the American republic was founded are now at stake and must be vindicated."

Former President Taft introduced Mr. Wilson as the nation's leader in the greatest war history, "a war whose sacrifices we cannot realize."

FOOD REGULATOR RESIGNS

AMSTERDAM, May 13, via London.—Adolph von Batocki, president of the German food regulation board, has, owing to the severe criticism, asked permission to resign, according to a Berlin telegram. Permission has been temporarily withheld, but it is expected his resignation will shortly be announced.

MINERS WILL GO ON STRIKE THIS MORNING

General Strike Throughout District 18 Will Be Called Today.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

CALGARY, Alta., May 13.—The conference of the mine workers representatives of District 18 ended here late tonight and tomorrow morning a general strike will be called throughout the district. Many of the mines have not been working for some weeks but no strike has been authorized by the district union until now.

The strike takes place along the C. P. and C. N. R., employing about 800 men will now be added to the number of men out.

A telegram has been received from the minister of labor asking if the men were agreeable to resuming work and leaving the matter for settlement in the hands of a royal commission which he was ready to appoint. The conference decided that a new policy committee should be appointed to take charge of matters and it will have power to consider any proposal which pertains to the situation and to act for the men. This committee consists of six men representing the various sub-districts and the officers of the union who will act as an advisory board.

All delegates returned to their camps tonight with the exception of this committee, which will continue to meet here, holding its first session tomorrow morning. The reply to be made to Hon. Mr. Crothers will be one of the first matters considered.

D. Reiss, accompanied by W. Leint, of Bellevue, leave tomorrow for Indianapolis, to attend the meeting of the international union executive and place the situation before the meeting.

CONDITIONS ARE IMPROVING NOW OVER IN RUSSIA

WASHINGTON, May 13.—General support of the provisional government was voiced in the report of 43 provisional governors representing practically all European Russia who assembled at Petrograd, May 5, according to an official telegram. Their telegram showed improving conditions.

UNITED STATES MAY BE DRY IN NEAR FUTURE

Senate Passes Bill Forbidding Use of Cereals In Manufacture of Liquor

FIRST STEP TOWARD TOTAL PROHIBITION

Press Censorship Clause In Bill Is Rejected In U.S. Senate.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, May 12.—The first legislative step toward conservation of the nation's food resources and a long advance toward an absolutely dry United States was taken tonight by the senate in approving, 38 to 22, an amendment to the administration's espionage bill forbidding during the war the use of cereals or grain in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor. By a majority vote the senate also threw out of the bill the administration's press censorship section, and then voted overwhelmingly not to put in a modified section, as was done in the house; this action is expected to throw the censorship fight into conference, where the influence of the administration can be brought to bear more directly.

INFERNAL MACHINE IS DISCOVERED IN KAISER'S PALACE

Contained Enough Dynamite To Blow Imperial Family Into Next Week.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) PARIS, May 13.—A small infernal machine was discovered recently in the Bellevue Palace in the Tiergarten in Berlin, where the imperial German family is now residing, according to a correspondent who sends German news to L'Humanite. The machine, he says, contained enough dynamite to completely wreck the palace and the adjoining outbuildings.

"It is probable the German government will declare this news as a pure invention," says the correspondent, "nevertheless I can affirm that my information is accurate."

CHICAGO PAPERS INCREASE PRICE

Sunday Tribune and Herald Advance Three Cents Outside of City.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

CHICAGO, May 27.—The Chicago Sunday Tribune announced last night that its retail price outside of Chicago and its suburbs would be increased from five cents to eight cents a copy beginning May 29.

Announcement was made several days ago that the selling price of the Chicago Daily Tribune will be increased to eight cents in the territory where it has been selling for one cent, beginning May 14.

The Chicago Sunday Herald also announced tonight that on May 29 it would increase its retail price from five cents to eight cents outside Chicago and suburbs. The increased cost of white print paper and other materials also were given as reasons.

MAJOR GEN. FISET IS DECORATED BY GENERAL JOFFRE

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) MONTREAL, May 13.—The Legion d'Honneur has been bestowed by France upon Major General Fiset, deputy minister of the Canadian militia, and Brigadier-General A. E. Labelle, a member of the harbor commission of Montreal. Marshal Joffre made this announcement in his speech today at the state banquet here in his honor.

The marshal regretted that he could not remain to present the decorations himself, but said they would come in the usual way.

LIEUT. HENRY WAR PRISONER MAYOR HEARS

Hun Aviator Drops Message Over British Lines From Edmonton Soldier.

CHIVALRY IS STILL FACT AMONG AIRMEN

Lieut. Logan Is Also Held By The Teutons—Slightly Wounded.

Mayor Henry had word yesterday that his son, Lieut. Reginald Henry, of the Royal Flying Corps, recently reported missing and later captured, was a prisoner of war in Germany and slightly wounded. The message set at rest the anxiety which has been so keenly felt during the past few weeks concerning the fate of the gallant young Edmonton officer and his many friends will rejoice to hear that he is safe and well, although a prisoner in the hands of the enemy.

Cable Is Received Yesterday the mayor received the following cablegram from Mr. Reed, the Alberta government representative in London: "Flying Corps has received undated message from your son, dropped from German machine, saying he is prisoner and slightly wounded. Also another message from Logan (Lieut. Henry's pilot) to his wife saying 'both safe'."

The air service is one in which the old time chivalry of gallant foes to one another is still maintained, no matter how "frightfulness" may be the rule of combat on the ground and under sea. It is the unwritten agreement between German and British aviators that in the event of one of them being shot down, a message of notification will be dropped over the lines, or, if taken prisoner, the captive is permitted to communicate with his friends in the same manner. The airmen on both sides, no matter how desperately they may fight while on the wing, are honorable foes who respect one another's misfortune and give him kindly and considerate treatment.

FOOD GAMBLERS ARE DENOUNCED IN WASHINGTON

Present High Levels Will Be Maintained Unless Govt. Fixes Prices.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) WASHINGTON, May 12.—Today's sharp rise in July and September wheat prices on the Chicago exchange drew from the agricultural department tonight a statement denouncing "food gamblers" and "economic parasites." Carl Vrooman, the assistant secretary, declared the time had come for the government to take a decisive action to check the upward trend.

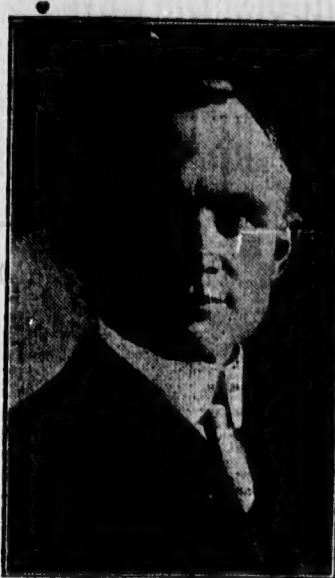

High Prices Remain The present high level of wheat prices, many government officials believe, will be maintained even if the Chicago exchange discontinues all future trading because of the great force of the government's price-fixing policy. The wheat demand for the coming year are more than America can supply even if the spring acreage produces a bumper yield. The country has on hand now about 25,000,000 or 30,000,000 bushels of visible wheat. Probably more than half is stored on farms and in country mills as an invisible supply. The invisible supply will run the country until the July harvest, leaving the 30,000,000 bushels for export. It is believed the allies already hold contracts in this country for much more wheat than that.

Ship to Allies Shipments to the allies will be stopped only when in the judgment of the government it is necessary to retain all available wheat for American uses. This question has been threshed out with the agricultural department by the British and French missions. The department is looking forward to a big acreage of spring wheat and an enormous yield if the weather is favorable. This will give some wheat for export.

Corn prices are lower than normal, but there is still a vast store in the United States. Reports to the agricultural department on March 1st showed there was on the farms at that time 789,000,000 bushels.

DANISH STEAMER SUNK BOSTON, May 13.—The sinking of the Danish steamer Louisiana by a German submarine a few hours after she left Newcastle, England, for Boston on April 17, was reported to local agents in a cable message yesterday from Liverpool. Captain Johnson and the crew of thirty men were picked up by a British patrol boat, the message says. The Louisiana was a vessel of 3,015 tons gross.

Mayor Henry Candidate For the West Edmonton Liberal Convention

A large deputation of Liberal electors of the new West Edmonton constituency waited on His Worship Mayor Henry Saturday night, and asked that he allow his name to go before the convention next Thursday as a candidate for the nomination. The mayor gave his consent.

The deputation urged upon the mayor that he would be one of the strongest possible candidates and assured him of the enthusiastic support of the party in the district. They declared that he would be practically assured of victory at the polls. It is understood, in short, that they would not accept an answer, and that His Worship, after discussing the situation at length, finally yielded to the pressure and gave them the assurance that his hat would be in the ring.

The Liberal primaries in the West Edmonton district will be held on Wednesday and the convention on the following Thursday. The district is thoroughly organized and the Liberals are confident of returning their candidate on election day. A. E. Ewing, K.C., M.P., is the Conservative nominee.

NAVAL ATTACK IS MADE ON ZEEBRUGGE BY THE BRITISH

Most Destructive Yet Made by British Warships Says Rotterdam Report—Two Submarine Sheds Blown Up—Royal Air Service Co-operates With Naval Forces.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

ROTTERDAM, May 13, via London.—The naval attack yesterday on Zeebrugge was the most destructive yet made by British warships.

Two submarine sheds were blown up. Sixty-three persons were killed, and upwards of a hundred others were taken to the hospitals.

LONDON, May 13.—An official statement was issued this evening by the British admiralty relative to the naval and aerial bombardment of Zeebrugge Saturday morning. It says: "A very heavy bombardment of the important area at Zeebrugge was successfully carried out Saturday morning by a portion of our forces under orders of the Dover Vice Admiral."

"The royal naval air service rendered valuable co-operation and over fifteen aerial combats occurred, in which four enemy machines were destroyed and five others were driven down out of control."

"Two of our machines failed to return. One of these descended in Dutch territory and was interned."

German Report "BERLIN, May 13, via London.—"Enemy monitors during foggy weather Saturday morning shelled Zeebrugge from a great distance," says an official statement issued today by the German admiralty. "Our batteries replied. There was no loss of life. Slight material damage was done."

ALL DOUBTS AS SINCERITY OF THE U. S. REMOVED Arthur Balfour Makes Statement About His Reception In New York.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

NEW YORK, May 12.—The climax of the British war commission's two-day visit to this city came yesterday afternoon, when Foreign Minister Arthur James Balfour, declared that any doubts some of his colleagues may have had as to the sincerity of their welcome to the United States had been finally dispelled by the plaudits of a hundred thousand New Yorkers who have greeted them since their arrival here.

"We never conceived or believed," he added, "that there would be such a universal outpouring of sympathy, of good will, as has marked every moment of our visit."

GERMANS PLACE PRISONERS IN DANGER POINTS Special Camps Established As Reprisals—Exposed To British Aid Raids.

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

AMSTERDAM, May 12, via London.—British and French officer prisoners of all grades began arriving today at the new camp established at Freiburg especially designed for officers, says a Berlin telegram today.

The German government recently announced that in reprisal for the placing of a German general and 15 staff officers on French hospital ships in the Mediterranean French officers of corresponding rank of three, this number had been placed "at points in the western industrial districts which are especially subject to aerial attacks."

Freiburg is a point which has been frequently the object of air raids. Both the British and French have placed German prisoners on hospital ships because of the sinking of several such vessels by submarines.

COTTON WEAVERS ON STRIKE

LONDON, May 13.—All weavers throughout the northern counties of England have been instructed by the northern counties' amalgamated weavers' association to strike May 26 unless the cotton manufacturers concede a twenty per cent wage advance. About 80 mills will be forced to shut down and 200,000 weavers affected if the strike occurs.

SPANISH GOVT. PROTESTS

MADRID, May 13, via Paris.—The Spanish government has sent a note of protest to the German government concerning the torpedoing of the steamer Carmen which was sunk with in Spanish territorial waters. The Spanish government, it is announced, will also establish a patrol by destroyers between the Cantabrian coast and France.

VIVIANI MAKES STRONG APPEAL TO CANADIANS

Ex-Premier of France Makes Memorable Speech Before Parliament.

DIRECT MESSAGE TO CANADIAN PEOPLE

"Morally Speaking, You Are Just As Close As We Are To The Fray."

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire)

OTTAWA, May 12.—Ex-Premier Viviani, of France, made a memorable speech before the Dominion parliament today, an eloquent and striking appeal to the Dominion to stand by democracy in its life and death struggle with autocracy.

Deeply impressive were Viviani's closing words—his direct message and appeal to Canadians. With arms outstretched he leaned toward the parliamentarians.

"Ye Canadians who listen to me," he cried in quivering tones, "ye free men who sit in this parliament, pray mark my words. I realize that you are further away than we are from the battlefields. The roar of guns does not reach your ears. You do not see the return of hosts of wounded men. But, morally speaking, you are just as close as we are to the fray. Confronting one another—you and us—we have autonomy and democracy in life and death struggle. Should, perchance, the freemen fail to win, democracy and universal justice will go down to defeat at the same time. It was in the cause of justice at an epoch, we drew the sword. It was in the cause of justice that Britain and France, together with their noble allies, entered the war. It is to avenge the children of men to enjoy well assured and prolonged peace that we are fighting."

Appeal to Mothers "Mother, I appeal to you. It is for your children's freedom, to secure peace and liberty for mankind, that the whole generation is giving its life today, making the supreme sacrifice."

"Let the pious thought accompany those who go to the front. All laudatory epithets have been exhausted. There is nothing left to say in their praise other than that many have given their lives for a sacred cause and that others are still fighting for the salvation of mankind. Justice, justice, fighting for truth, fighting for right. Their fame and their courage must ever be an immortal example to all men."

Foster and Laurier

Sir George E. Foster, who in the absence of Sir Robert Borden welcomed the visitor on behalf of the government. Sir Wilfrid Laurier also made a noteworthy address, and in closing said:

"Out of the union of these nations—France, Great Britain and the United States—should come at last the realization of a new world, prayed and hoped, glory to God in the highest, peace on earth and good will to men."

After the adoption of the motion to incorporate Mr. Viviani's speech in Hansard, Ernest Lapointe started the "Marseillaise," which was vigorously sung, more ardently, of course, by the French members. Dr. Michael Clark then led off with the singing of "God Save the King."

Viviani then shook hands with everybody in the chamber and the historic ceremony was over.

EAST EDMONTON LIBERALS WILL MAKE CHOICE

Nominating Convention Will Be Held In Albion Hall Tonight.

The names of W. J. McGrath and Fred Dunlop will go before the East Edmonton district Liberal convention, which will be held in the Albion hall tonight. The convention will meet at 8 p. m. and there will be no lack of good speaking. Those who will speak include: Hon. A. L. Sifton, Hon. C. W. Cross, Hon. A. G. McKay, K. C., and A. E. May, Liberal candidate for the federal riding.

Everything points to a large and representative meeting being held. The district is united and enthusiastic and it is expected that the candidate whoever he may be, will be carried in to victory by a large majority on election day.

CONVINCED WAR WILL LAST SEVERAL YEARS AT LEAST

(By Morning Bulletin Leased Wire) SASKATOON, May 12.—Rev. W. C. Clark, pastor of Knox church, the largest in the city, told his congregation tonight that he was convinced that the war would last for three or four years yet, and it might be much longer. The people might as well make up their minds to it, as they were going to England, Mr. Clark invited England and Scotland last year.

RECONSTRUCTION OF RUSSIA IS A GREAT PROBLEM

Coalition Organization Absorbs Attention of Petrograd at Present

Petrograd, via London, May 12.—The executive committee of the Council of Workmen and Soldiers' delegates has decided by a vote of 23 to 22 not to participate in the formation of a coalition government. The question will be referred to a plenary meeting of the council.

It is understood that the ministries of munitions labor and relief will be created in the coalition government.

Petrograd, May 10, via London, May 12.—The problem of the reconstruction of the government on a coalition basis absorbs the attention of Petrograd. It is stated the council of soldiers' and workmen's delegates will discuss the invitation of the government in yesterday's manifesto to the nation at its session today, but whether or there will be any modification of its determination not to participate in "the capitalist" government, is a matter of considerable doubt.

The government appeal is so direct that if the council refuses the nation will require some adequate excuse for the refusal to participate in a government which seeks to control the anarchy of the country.

The names mentioned for the new government are those of Mlg. Terezhov, who aspires to be a Russian Lloyd George; M. H. S. Chiedze and M. Chernov, of the Social Revolutionaries; Kerevsky's particularly, who, it is stated, will replace Milukoff as foreign minister.

On the other hand, experienced politicians view the extension of the coalition principle with alarm. Dignity already reigns inside the government on account of the conflicting views of Milukoff and Guchkov on the one side and Kerevsky on the other. What will it be when men like Chiedze, who, whatever their declarations may be, are admitted to the cabinet? The only result can be a transfer of the conflict from the outside to the inside of the government. There is no analogy in the position of the labor members of the British government, possibly because British labor is solidly for victory.

FOOD PRICES IN CANADA HIGHER BY 38 PER CENT

Official Statistics Compiled Show Enormous Increases in Living Cost

London, May 10.—(Correspondence)—The official statistics of retail prices of food given in the Board of Trade Labor Gazette show an increase up to March 31 of 34 per cent, as compared with July, 1914. As concerns other expenditures there have been no substantial increases, except with regard to rents, and the average advance, including food, rent, clothing, fuel, light, etc., may be estimated at over 65 per cent.

Food prices in other countries show increases as follows: Austria 131 per cent; Italy 70 per cent; United States over 24 per cent; Canada 38.8 per cent; Australia 25.3 per cent, and New Zealand 25.2 per cent.

Cooking Lake

We have dropped one season out of the calendar this year; 1917 had no spring—we jumped from winter into summer. Ten days ago we were all complaining of the bitter cold. One man here was so disgusted with the continued winter conditions that he was seriously considering the advisability of emigrating to Australia and was only dissuaded from doing so by a friend, and who told him that if he hurried up he would be in time to catch the winter there, too. No greater contrast can be conceived than that between the torrid heat of last week and the Arctic temperature of the week before. The consequent change in the face of nature was equally marked—a perfect transformation being effected in the few days. What previously all was brown and sombre with scarce a tinge of green is now verdant with grassy tufts and budding leaves. A few showers of warm rain would be most welcome and would make the country look like a gigantic garden.

The farmers are speeding up at high pressure, working from almost dawn till dark, and are doing their utmost to make up by increased effort for the setback caused by the exceptional lateness of the season. It would seem as if each individual felt that he alone rested the responsibility for the highest possible amount of production, and in this way each is doing his bit in the great food crisis of the world.

The intense heat of the week had a very marked effect on the ice in the lake, which hitherto had resisted the puny and spasmodic efforts of "Old Sun" in his half-hearted attempts at terminating the prolonged reign of the "Ice King." In the early part of the week signs of disruption began to appear, and the wind of Tuesday accelerated the process of dismemberment, and during the following days the lake presented the appearance of an archipelago, each one gradually diminishing in size till in another day or two they will have made their final exit.

A destructive fire raged through the city during the week. It seemed to have originated to the east of Deville, somewhere between there and Tofield. Fanned by a brisk easterly wind and fed by the grass and underwood, which were as inflammable as tinder, it rapidly spread towards the west, and in a few hours it had reached the city, where it continued its wild career, where it consumed its way through the dense clouds of smoke rose like a mountain across the country, while the roar of the flames was deafening. Mr. C. Bailey, forest superintendent, was early on the scene and mustered all the help he could secure to fight the flames. The fire was available, as the scene of the conflagration was remote from the homesteads, where most of the people were engaged in the farm work. Among those who rendered valuable assistance were Mr. and Mrs. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Lynam, Miss Margaret Kelly and Mr. Grey. The men did their best to subside the conflagration, which was not got under control until a late hour Wednesday. Fortunately no private property was injured and no very material damage done to the timber on the reserve, as it was mostly decayed trees and light wood that was injured. As usual in such cases, the origin of the fire is unknown, possibly a lighted match dropped on the dry grass.

Though Arbor Day was not observed as a school holiday in the province this year the spirit of the day was upheld in the school here on Friday. The pupils were busy part of the day in beautifying the grounds. Beds were dug and laid out, plants and a general clean-up effected.

The recent loss of the allies at Vimy Ridge has claimed a heavy toll from this district—no less than four casualties being reported during the week, three fatalities and one seriously wounded. Privates Atkins, Hays, and Jones are reported as having made the supreme sacrifice, while Pte. Charles Hillman has been badly wounded. These brave boys all joined during the first year of the war and their names go to swell the long list from this district of those who fought for "home and country." The greatest sympathy is felt for the relatives of the gallant young soldiers.

A government survey party visited the Deville neighborhood last week and made a survey of some much needed roads in the district.

Fred Bennett who has been in hospital for the past month returned home during the week and is steadily recovering during the week.

Mr. William Gibb received a telegram from Winnipeg announcing the death of his father.

A valuable addition has been made to the Cooking Lake school library during the week in the shape of some forty books forwarded from the department of education. This latest accession brings the number of books in the library to close on two hundred. These include writings by nearly all the standard British and American authors—works on history, travel, biography, fiction, romance, etc. In addition to a number of volumes dealing with the great world war. The library is largely patronized not only by the school children but also by the adults of the district. This is one of the most important branches of the education department supplying as it does an amount of reading matter for young and old throughout the province especially in the rural districts where books are often difficult if not impossible to be procured. The department deserves well of the country for its valuable assistance in this matter of school libraries, which do so much to foster a taste for reading and for the acquisition of useful knowledge among the rising generation.

Mr. Alex Morrow lost a valuable steer on Monday. It was killed by a passing train near Deville station.

Mr. H. Bryanton purchased a pair of foxes last year in the Grouse district from which he has just got a litter of young black foxes. These will form the nucleus of what may prove a valuable fox ranch.

Teddy Owen has again taken over charge of the Tofield tank in addition to the one at Cooking Lake station. He makes two trips to Tofield each week to attend to his duties there.

Mr. Wm. Dossie shipped a consignment of grain and other produce to Edmonton during the week which he disposed of at remunerative prices.

A number of people motored down during the week including Mr. A. F. Brown, Mr. Chris Sak and party. They all report the roads in excellent condition.

Messrs. Baker and Lyman purchased large quantities of seed oats from Mr. John Morrow and Mr. E. U. Fowler recently.

Walter Dossie went to Edmonton with his father to consult the doctor. He is suffering from the past nine months from an affection of the limbs and spine. The doctor applied the X-rays and made a thor-

There was a dance in Chris Sak's Friday night. Notwithstanding the busy season and the hot weather there was a fair attendance.

Mrs. J. M. Verge, Mr. John Morrow and Mr. Snyder went to town during the week.

ROUMANIA NOW FEELS EFFECTS OF REVOLUTION

New Labor Party Formed—Planks in Platform Radical

Ungenie, Roumania, May 11, via London, May 12.—The revolutionary movement in Roumania could not remain without influence in this country, where hitherto there has existed neither a Socialist nor Labor party. This morning 20 members of parliament assembled to formulate the basis of a labor party, which adopted a program of which the following are the main points: 1. Distribution of the land among all who work the land; 2. Votes for women; 3. Rights for Jews who took part in the campaign of 1913 or the present year.

With regard to the foreign policy the labor party asks for energetic prosecution of the war until German militarism is crushed. The new party has already established contact with representatives of the Roumanian Socialists.

Lieut. Col. Geo. B. McLeod Holds Open House For Men From All Edmonton Units at Hastings

Only One Password to Great Gathering: "Edmonton"—Men of All Ranks, From All Units That Have Departed From City, Gathered Together—All Edmonton Soldiers in Hastings at Time Invited—Names of Those in Attendance.

London, April 12.—(By Mail).—"Oh! You old son of a gun." "Hullo! What brought you here?" These and a thousand other questions were to be heard on the night of Wednesday, April 11th, over two hundred Edmontonians of "any old unit" accepted Col. G. B. McLeod's invitation and foregathered at the Dominion Club, Charenton, Hastings, England.

There was only one password to that lodge. It was "Edmonton." It made no difference what regiment you had left Edmonton in, so long as that was your home place. It made no difference what your rank was every other Edmontonian of your own dear western burg was your equal.

Song by the "Skipper."
Lt.-Col. G. B. McLeod took the chair at 7:00 o'clock and the concert portion of the affair opened with a selection by a quartet of string and piano. The next item was a song by the "skipper" better known as the adjutant of the 51st, Capt. Holmden, who rendered the song written by two Edmonton soldiers and dedicated to the Edmonton soldiers: "Soldier." After that songs, readings and stories followed in rotation. Some by the kind ladies of Hastings, who have taken the Canadians very much into their hearts, there by such men as Lieut. W. Ken-redy, better known to his messmates of the 51st Sergeant's Mess as "Bill." Lieut. Hefferman of the 66th, who served overseas with the 49th was there and lent much to the general happiness of events by going along with his fellow townsmen and greeting those of his own regiment whom he found there. Here, there and everywhere during the evening was the host, Col. McLeod, greeting this one and having a chat to that one, coaxing a song, recitation or a speech from this, or seeing to it that another portion of the evening which was his was not being forgotten.

The host in a short opening speech explained that he was leaving the command of the Canadian Garrison Duty Depot at Hastings to take up the command of the Alberta Regimental Depot at Brantford and idea of having the Edmonton men now stationed in Hastings brought together was an altogether selfish one, his one idea being to provide himself with amusement at the expense of the time of his guests.

Later another speech was called for from Capt. Holmden who in a short manner pointed out how by taking up arms in this war every man present was doing his part for his country and his fellow Canadians.

CAR DECREASE ON C.N.R. WEST LINES BELOW AVERAGE

Traffic Dept. Gives Statistics To Show Best Comparison With Other 1916 Reports

In view of the general charges against the Canadian Northern system for shortage of shipping facilities during the period of the war, the traffic department of the C.N.R. has compiled relative figures which show that while the decrease on all western railway lines equalled 33.08 per cent. in 1916 as compared with 1915, the actual decrease on the Canadian Northern was only 29.99 per cent.

District Freight Agent at Edmonton, R. N. Bell, gives statistics in regard to crop movements as follows—this movement showing the number of cars of grain inspected at Winnipeg, Calgary, and other points from September 1st to May 7th, during 1915 and 1916:

C.N.R.—Crop of 1916, 96,874 cars (57 per cent.); crop of 1915, 145,278 cars (56.5 per cent.), a decrease of 48,404 cars, or 33.3 per cent.

C.P.R.—Crop of 1916, 51,480 cars (30 per cent.); crop of 1915, 73,479 cars (28.6 per cent.), a decrease of 21,999 cars, or 29.9 per cent.

G.T.P.—Crop of 1916, 18,242 cars (19.7 per cent.); crop of 1915, 33,526 cars (13 per cent.), a decrease of 15,284 cars, or 45.6 per cent.

G.N. and Duluth—Crop of 1916, 3,483 cars (2 per cent.); crop of 1915, 4,744 cars (1.9 per cent.), a decrease of 1,261 cars, or 26.6 per cent.

FIRE IN NORTH BELVEDERE.
Fire destroyed a two-story frame house and a shack in North Belvedere Saturday afternoon, doing in the neighborhood of $3,000 damage. The occupants of the house were not at home when the fire occurred, but it is believed that the house and shack were the property of Mr. Walter Horne, of the Public Benefit Meat Market. The fire commenced from unknown cause in a shack, which was within a few feet of the house. Most of the furniture was removed.

ARRESTED IN RAID.
In a raid Saturday Detective Sergeant Gillingham and Detective Nelson arrested George Muller on a charge of having liquor in his possession for sale. The raid was made at 9415 102A Ave. Muller will appear in the police court this morning.

INSPECTOR'S REPORT IS UNFAVORABLE

Country Dairies Supplying Milk To City Are In Poor Shape, He Says.

Dairy Inspector Brink, who looks after the dairies located outside the city who ship to Edmonton, has made an unfavorable report for the month of April. He says: "On the whole things were the worst I have found in a long time as regards the surroundings. Owing to the amount of snow during the past winter and spring nearly all the places were mucky and dirty around the buildings. The cows have wintered fairly well and were clean in nearly all instances."

The inspector states that he carried out 108 inspections during the month of these fifteen being at Tofield and Horden. At these places he found very little improvement, as only three or four seemed to be interested in the dairy business, the balance making it very much a side line.

LAWYERS 38 OF 'EM ADDED TO TRADE BOARD

Percy Abbott Hands Over Sheet of Applications on Saturday

"There you are, thirty-eight lawyers," said Percy Abbott, handing over a sheet of application forms to Secretary Fisher of the Board of Trade at mid-day on Saturday. P. Abbott is leading the campaign for new members for the Board of Trade.

Money is wanted to carry on a publicity campaign to bring good farmers into the Edmonton district, and the new members of the Board of Trade are going to furnish the money for the campaign.

Mr. Abbott says that the work is going well, and that the Edmonton business men appreciate the idea of publicity work being done. It is estimated that when the results of the first round of the campaign are tabulated, that the Board of Trade membership will have increased to some 50.4. There is no limit set for the membership, but it might be said that the publicity work will cost between three and four thousand dollars.

Arrangements are being made so that all the superintendents and heads of departments at the city hall will become members.

Military Gossip

MEN NEEDED FOR THE CAVALRY.

One of the finest cavalry units in the Dominion of Canada is the 34th Fort Garry Horse, with headquarters at Winnipeg, from which regiment large numbers of men have been sent overseas, many of whom are now doing grand work as cavalry in the present advance that is taking place in France.

A call has come for a large number of cavalrymen to be supplied by the Fort Garry Horse, and this will give those who desire to join and ride a chance to go overseas at an early date, if they wish.

It is not necessary for the recruit to be able to ride, as 30 per cent. of the 34th Fort Garry Horse, a well-trained horse is allotted to him and he is taught riding by some of the best experts in Western Canada; and it is a well-known fact that the men of this squadron have such a neat and drowsy appearance as to command the attention of the citizens of Winnipeg and other places where they are seen.

Should any of the men in this district desire to become identified with this squadron, the officer commanding, Major F. W. Stoneham, whose headquarters are at Service Squadron, 34th Fort Garry Horse, Tuxedo Park, Winnipeg, will be glad to hear from them by letter or wire, and transportation will be furnished to recruits from point of enlistment to the city of Winnipeg.

HEARING ADJOURNED.

Hearing on the action of the Royal Bank of Canada against Dingles Co. Ltd. to recover $172.56 on a promissory note, was commenced Saturday in the district court before His Honor Judge Crawford. The hearing was adjourned until Monday.

The Edmonton Hospital Association will give a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. on Wednesday in All Saints' school room, to which all citizens are cordially invited. The object of the gathering will be to elect a new board of directors and to bring the public generally into closer touch with the hospital situation in the city. The association selects the seven representatives of the hospital who sit on the hospital board. The annual subscription is one dollar. The price of tickets for the luncheon is fifty cents.

WESTERN UNITS EVIDENTLY HAD IMPORTANT PART TO PLAY IN THE HEAVY FIGHTING NEAR FRESNOY

Casualties, After Brief Lull, Are Again Heavy—Great Number Are Reported Killed in Action—Four Edmonton Men Have Made Supreme Sacrifice, According to Last Roll of Honor.

The casualties incurred by the Canadians in the fierce fighting about Fresnoy are beginning to come in and a long list of names appears in today's report. It is evident that Western units were heavily engaged and suffered severely in the battle. The great number of men reported to have been "killed in action" attests the desperate nature of the encounter. The names of three Edmonton men appear in the list of killed, and twenty-one from other parts of the province, while four more (one from Edmonton) are reported to have died of wounds.

Three Edmonton soldiers, reported wounded, and 30 from other Alberta cities and towns appear on the list, in addition to eight others, who are listed in Alberta but whose next of kin live outside the province. The Alberta casualties reported Saturday and Sunday are as follows:

MONDAY, MAY 14, 1917.

It is to be hoped it is not as hot these days in the fighting trenches as it is in the garden trenches.

Zeppelin seems to have died just in time to escape the verdict that his ingenious gas-bag had gone into a state of permanent collapse.

The pastors of the Huns are said to be praying that they may be forgiven for every bullet that misses its mark. The prayers for forgiveness would be entirely in order if they were shooting at themselves.

Berlin papers are now "strafing" the German-Americans for not starting a rebellion. The strafed should worry. It is better to be strafed than hanged, which is the fate that awaits any of them who go into the rebellion business.

The reception given the resolution forbidding the wastage of grain in the manufacture of whiskey suggests that the prohibition of the national liquor trade "root and branch" is not among the things to be looked for from Parliament as at present composed.

The decreased acreage sown to wheat in the United States is given as one factor in boosting wheat prices to their present level. In turn, the present high price for wheat is undoubtedly inducing the Canadian farmer to increase his acreage if he can do so. Thus the difference in latitude—and consequently in the sowing season—makes for the equalization of the world supply. It is fortunate that the crops of the world are not sown and reaped everywhere at the same times of the year. Else a shortage could not be corrected for twelve months, and the hardships produced by a shortage or prospective shortage in any of the standard articles of food would be multiplied.

There is one agency, and only one, that is capable of curbing the rapacity of the profiteers. That is the Dominion Government. Under the War Measures Act the Government has been endowed by Parliament with wide authority to protect the public from exactions, and if any measure of authority is lacking to that end the Ministers have only to ask Parliament and they will get it. That they have neither exercised the authority they have nor asked for more, is humiliating and discouraging evidence that relief through Government action is not to be looked for unless the public make plain that the Government must either function or get out. An un-benevolent neutrality has governed our national administration from the beginning, and controls it still, so far as concerns the operations of these commercial Huns against the public.

The Hun who introduced liquid fire on the battlefield is dead. Called to headquarters.

Curiously enough, the man who suffers most from the high cost of living is the one whom it is considered necessary to urge to grow things to eat. The townsman, rather than the farmer, is the one to whom arguments for increased production are now being addressed.

Parliament's refusal to prevent the distilleries and breweries wasting grain in the manufacture of booze is another proof that Parliament as at present constituted misrepresents the present temper and thought of the Canadian people about as far as practicable; and that a general election is a necessity if the theory that the people govern themselves is to be restored to practice.

The sub-murderers have sunk two more hospital ships since the town of Freiburg was bombed in reprisal for the sinking of the Lafrance. The Kaiser, it seems from this, cares no more if German women and children are bombed than he does if German wounded prisoners are drowned in torpedoed hospital ships. But the German people must be supposed to care, and if the reprisals are kept up, as they should be, they will wake up sometime to recognize that the Kaiser doesn't care. Then there may be trouble.

Russia may be a country where a coalition government would mean increased efficiency. Such governments seem to be tolerable only where no other form of government will be tolerated, and Russia appears to have developed a group of factions none of which is powerful enough to rule and each of which is too powerful to be ignored. In any event, a coalition government could hardly render the gigantic empire any more helpless than it is now, and might conceivably, by restoring some measure of harmony, restore also something of strength and unity of purpose in the one matter of transcending importance to the outside world.

In large measure the increased cost of living in Canada is undoubtedly due to the war. For that increase there is no remedy in law, and the public do not expect or demand any. They are entirely prepared to sustain uncompensated whatever sacrifices and hardships may be thrust upon them by the necessities of war. But they have a right to demand that while they are called upon to sustain the hardships incidental to war they shall not be also required to submit to spoliation at the hands of commercial bandits, who make the war a pretext for robbing their countrymen. The unrestrained profiteer is doing probably more to boost prices in Canada today than the war; and he is being allowed to do it under pretence that patriotism requires the public to submit to his greed.

NO CENSORSHIP OF STATES' PAPERS

Provisions Are Stricken From Senate Bill By Vote of 39 to 38.

Washington, May 12.—The newspaper censorship provisions were stricken entirely from the administration espionage bill today in the senate by vote of 39 to 38 on motion of Senator Johnson of California. After the censorship clause had been stricken from the bill Senator Kirby, Democrat, of Arkansas, introduced an amendment providing for a definite and specific press censorship under the supervision of the secretaries of war and the navy and that was defeated 65 to 5.

BUNNY'S LITTLE BIT

This scheme of keeping rabbits To fatten them as food Breaks up the kindly habits Acquired in babyhood: For we, as youthful ecions, Were taught to love the dears And bring them dandelions And lift them by the ears.

We learned how each new litter That came to Flap or Fan Grew fatter and grew fatter With tea-leaves in the brain; And which were merely tough, What grass was good for Silky And what was good for Fluff.

Such moral mild up-bringing Now makes me such distressed When little necks need wringing And little paws protest, Lost wraiths from the empty hatches Lost haunt me, hang in pairs, And ghosts—'tis here it touches—Of happy Belgian hares.

However, with my morals I manfully shall cope, And back my country's quarrels, But none the less I hope Before poor Bunny's taken As stuff for knife and fork The hedge-hog will be bacon. The guinea-pig be pork. —W. H. O. in Punch.

ANSWERS

This department does not pretend to be infallible. It will endeavor, however, to answer questions sent to it by readers of The Bulletin to the best of its ability. The right to ignore all that are trifling or of concern only to the questioner. To receive attention, every inquiry must bear the name and address of the questioner. This information is not wanted for publication, but as an evidence of good faith.

Fires in City.

To the Bulletin.—What are the regulations regarding the setting of fires within the city?

READER, City.
Of course the government statutory regulations apply within the city limits as well as in the country. The city bylaw affecting fires is numbered 72 and reads in this regard: "No person shall set fire to any shavings, chips, straw or other combustibles, or light any fire, or bonfire, in any of the streets, lanes, parks, or public places of the city, or in any enclosure within fifty feet of any building, and no person shall carry fire through any of the streets, highways, or parks of the said city, excepting in some covered vessel, or metal fire pan."

Ships.—Boilers.

To the Bulletin.—Please favor me with an answer to the following questions: (1). Where are the ship yards located where they build engines and boilers for ships, and does the government build them? (2). How would an engineer with second class Alberta papers fare in joining the navy; what rank would he hold and what pay would he get? (3). Are there any works in Edmonton or Calgary where they build engines and boilers?

J. A. Evansburg, Alta.

(1). Evidently you refer to ships intended for war purposes, and if so we cannot give you any information, this being prohibited by military orders. (2). This would be decided after you had joined up. Any definite information relative to enlistment and conditions in the navy can be obtained on Jasper avenue, Edmonton. (3). The C.P.R. shops at Oden, near Calgary, are the largest shops of the kind in the province, but no engines are actually constructed there, this being done at the company's Winnipeg shops.

Mineral Wool.

To the Bulletin.—(1). What is mineral wool? Where can it be obtained? Is it very expensive? (2). Of what are the radiators in fireless cookers made? Where can they be obtained?

SUBSCRIBER, Blackfalds.

(1). Mineral wool is a composition of ground glass and is a substitute for asbestos. It is not expensive. (2). Fireless cooker radiators are made of soap stone. These and mineral wool we understand can be obtained at Somerville's hardware, Edmonton.

Shakespeare Quotation.

To the Bulletin.—Shakespeare, in one of his plays, gives a definition of acting to the effect that it is to hold up to the world, the world as it is. Could you give the definition and where it is to be found.

S. C. Edmonton.

This quotation may be Hamlet's speech to the players, act 3, scene 2, or it may be from "As You Like It."

Foxes.—Indians.

To the Bulletin.—Would you please inform me through the columns of your paper: (1). Is the capturing of young foxes in the summer months allowed in the province of Alberta, said foxes to be used for breeding stock? (2). Is the Cree Indian language in written form? (3). Are there Protestant missions among the Indians of Northern Alberta? (4). Please name the Indian tribes of Alberta and state which contains the largest number in population.

W. E. H. Nunato.

(1). Fox pups are allowed to be captured in this province for the purpose of raising stock but they must not be exported. (2). The Cree language has been published. (3). Yes. (4). The Indian tribes of Alberta are principally Cree, Assiniboin, Stonies, Chipewyan, Sarcees, Siksika, (Blackfoot), Piegan, Blood and Beaver. This tribe having the largest population is the Cree.

BORGBJERG'S PEACE PARTY ENDS LIKE HEN. FORD'S JAUNT

German Socialists Disown Him and So Do the Norwegians.

Copenhagen, May 12, via London.—The last trappings have been stripped from Borgbjerg's peace embassy to Petrograd, the Associated Press dispatch from Berlin today stating that Borgbjerg carried no authorization nor instruction from the German Socialists and that the peace conditions outlined by him were merely his voluntary interpretation of Socialist proposals. It is evident from the disclaimers and disavowals in Borgbjerg's own newspaper, as well as from Berlin and Stockholm, that the Socialist editor took his trip over-seriously and was carried away in Petrograd by the desire to play a big role in international diplomacy.

The Danish editor gave himself out to be a plenipotentiary both for the German majority Socialists and the strength of his conversations with Philip Scheidemann here and of the international Socialist committee in Stockholm—in both instances unauthorized.

LLOYD GEORGE NOW IS STRONGER THAN EVER IN COMMONS

Times Says Result of Secret Session of Commons is Strengthening of Premier's Hand.

London, May 12.—Commenting on the secret sitting of parliament, the Times parliamentary writer says: "The only session of the house which seems to have pressed for the secret session is a little body of unofficial Liberals, with Winston Churchill as protagonist. It may be added that Churchill's speech found favor chiefly with those who are attracted by a carefully prepared debate. It was commonly said that in form it was better than in substance. At any rate, Lloyd George seems to have made little difficulty in disposing of what may be called its strategical basis. The view generally taken is that he has greatly strengthened his hold on the House of Commons."

CHANCELLOR IS NOT READY TO TALK PEACE

Von Bethmann-Hollweg Has Now Changed His Mind About Outlining Hun Aims

Copenhagen, via London, May 12.—The Germania, organ of the clerical party, indicates that Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg does not intend to make statements with regard to peace terms before the Reichstag. The chancellor has evidently won over the Centrists and part of the National-Liberal delegates to his view that a discussion of peace terms at the present time is inadvisable.

The Conservatives are daily growing more desperate as the work of the constitutional revision committee proceeds without any intervention from the government to dam the wave of reform which threatens the political influence of the junkers. "Where is Hindenburg to raise the fallen Kaiser's banner again and defend the rights of the throne?" cries Prince Zu Salm-Horstmar in the Prussian house of lords. The prince is president of the German naval league and one of the war horses of the Conservative old guard.

The South German Gazette, the organ of the South German Conservatives, suggests sending a deputation to the emperor to warn him that his throne is in danger unless he dismisses von Bethmann-Hollweg. The suggestion is taken up by the Kreuz Zeitung representing the Prussian junkers and the military aristocracy, the Deutsche Tages Zeitung and the Reichsbote. Other Conservative papers echo the cry that the Hohenzollern throne is tottering unless a new chancellor comes to suppress the reform movement with an iron hand. In spite of all Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg still seems very strong and there is no indication that the emperor's confidence is seriously shaken.

Speculation in wheat was not affected at all.

Decision of Chicago Board of Trade Only Resulted in Other Options Soaring

Chicago, May 12.—The most sensational advance in history of the present crop, if not in history, marked the trade in wheat today, when net gains ranging from 14 to 32 cents were scored in the July and September options. July wheat closed yesterday at $2.16, to it closed at $2.15 to $2.15, September, which closed the previous session at $2.14, closed with bids ranging from $2.44 to $2.45.

Chicago, May 12.—The decision of the board of trade of Chicago to terminate trading in May wheat and fixing of the price of that option at $3.18, by a committee which met this morning, had practically no effect on speculation.

The statement with which the directors of the board announced its decision as to May wheat was bullish and after hesitating at the opening, with prices slightly under yesterday's close, July wheat shot up 15 cents and September 14 1/2 cents from the early bottom.

The action of the board, in no way applied to the other options and trading in them was feverish. In effect the fixing of the May price was to save shorts from further losses and to prevent the price from falling below the representatives of the allied governments, from obtaining further profits. The settlement price, however, permits of handsome gains on wheat bought even two weeks ago.

Will prevent all competitive bids for war supplies.

International Agreement Formed to Arrange for Purchase of War Materials.

Washington, May 12.—An international agreement, under which there will be placed in the hands of a small commission, possibly of one man, the purchasing power of virtually every dollar of the billions to be loaned the allies by this government, and the additional billions which they will spend in this country out of their own income, is at present in process of formation. The commission will prevent competitive bidding between any foreign government and the United States.

Charge of arson.

West Ely, Que., May 12.—Alphonse Blodreau, contractor, of Sherbrook, and his son and nephew, Olive and Adelard Blodreau, were committed for trial yesterday on a charge of arson in connection with two mysterious fires during last week in a new brewery and the Catholic church here. The elder Blodreau had a contract for the erection of these buildings, work on which was almost completed.

FLOUR PRICES ADVANCE.

Minneapolis, May 12.—Flour prices continued their upward trend today and fancy patents touched the new high point of $17.10 a barrel, 40c above yesterday's top figure. First clears advanced 50c, being quoted at $14.90.

RUSSIANS ARE ON OFFENSIVE

Petrograd, May 12, via London.—The Russians in Mesopotamia are on the offensive and have forced crossings of the Diale River at two points northwest of Bagdad.

Delay at the Soo.

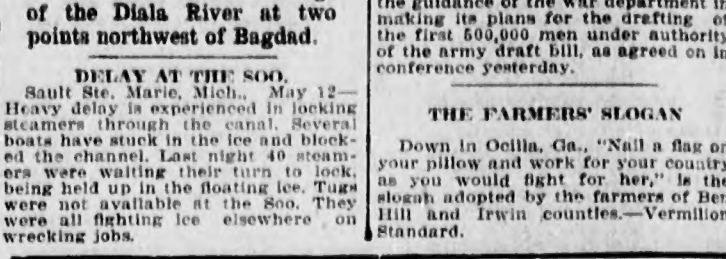

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., May 12.—Heavy delay is experienced in locking steamers through the canal. Several boats have been stuck in the ice and blocked the channel. Last night 40 steamers were waiting their turn to lock, being held up in the floating ice. Tugs were not available at the Soo. They were all fighting ice elsewhere on wrecking jobs.

APPROXIMATELY 11 MILLION MEN ARE ELIGIBLE IN U.S.A.

Washington, May 12.—There are approximately 10,078,000 males in the United States of the military draft age of 21 to 30 years of age, both inclusive, according to figures compiled by the United States census bureau for the guidance of the war department in making its plans for the drafting of the first 500,000 men under authority of the army draft bill, as agreed on in conference yesterday.

THE SOCIAL SIDE OF CITY LIFE

EDITED BY MISS MARION SEYMOUR

PERSONALS, MEETINGS, CLUB ACTIVITIES, WEDDINGS AND SOCIAL EVENTS

Mrs. George Stockand intends opening her cottage at Garfield Point shortly.

Mrs. Seymour leaves for Westlock on Wednesday for a short holiday.

Mrs. Norman L. Thompson has as her guest her sister, Mrs. J. W. Stevenson, of Edmonton—Saskatoon Daily Star.

Lieut. Harold Highton of Edmonton, who was attached to a battalion of the First Canadian Contingent, has returned to Canada after being badly wounded in France and is spending a few days at the Chateau Laurier—Ottawa Citizen.

The Duchess of Devonshire has donated a platinum pendant with rubies set in a heart shape, to be disposed of this week at the patriotic auction sale being held in Ottawa under the auspices of the Laurentian Chapter L.O.D.E., for the benefit of the Prisoners of War fund and the Soldiers' Aid commission.—Montreal Daily Telegraph.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilson and family leave tonight for Fort William. Mr. Wilson was manager of the Quebec Bank here until the Royal Bank took over the Quebec Bank and then Mr. Wilson was the assistant manager. His promotion to Fort William will make him manager there. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson's removal from Edmonton will be widely felt.

The Highlands W.C.T.U. are having a gold medal contest on Monday night in the Highlands Methodist church. It is and has been the custom of this union, to offer medals for temperance recitations, and the silver medal has already been awarded, there for Monday will be the awarding of the gold medal.

Mrs. McArthur of Regina and little daughter, Genevieve, who have been spending the winter in California, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Malono.

Entries for the junior classes in the musical festival will be accepted until next Thursday, according to an announcement made by the secretary last night.

Quite a success was the Art Exhibition and tea given under the auspices of the Swastika Girls club of Metropolitan church on Saturday afternoon at the home of Miss Nellie Brown, 90th street. The effort was in aid of the Red Cross and netted over $22.00. A great many people were in and out during the hours between four and ten and very much enjoyed the hospitality of these energetic young girls. Miss Brown deserves much praise for the part she took, and her chime painting and pictures were much admired. The band painted postcards, also her work were much sought after, and sold well. The tea room was artistically decorated with spring branches. A new branch of work which Miss Brown had on exhibition was basketry and drew much favorable comment from all.

Yesterday, at the Saint Jean Baptiste society, M. Arthur J. Cantin recited in French his lecture given by him a few months ago on the "Industrial Possibilities in Alberta," which was then published in the Bulletin. Mr. Cantin, though a young man, has made a study of the possibilities and knows well the natural resources of our province. He was presented by the chairman, Dr. Bousanger, who gave him as an example, to the youth present, for his love of serious work. The audience applauded, also Miss Verreau for their music and song, and Miss Alberta Larue's excellent recitation. The musically well trained Russian children sang in good French "La Marseillaise," then in Russian and in English "God Save the King."

Although the afternoon was very warm, and most too much so for a tea, yet the home of Mrs. John Kelly, 107th street, was thronged with people from three till six on Saturday afternoon, when the Lloyd George chapter entertained in aid of the Returned Soldiers. A candy booth was arranged on the veranda and did very well. Mrs. Huff looked after the receipts at the door and Mrs. John Kelly received. There was fortune telling in charge of Mrs. John Timothy who did a thriving trade. The tea table was decorated with pink and white carnations and here Mrs. Poucher and Mrs. McIntosh dispensed hospitalities. The assistants were: Miss Jessie Huff, Miss Dorothy Grant, Miss Marjorie Horner, Miss Lillian Jessup, Miss Marjorie Poucher, Miss Grace Darling and Miss Queenie Kelly. The guests chatted or wandered through the spacious rooms, occasionally forming familiar groups on the wide veranda. All were agreed that it was a very charming affair.

The concert tonight at the Veterans club house has been arranged by Hayden Morris, and Ross Sheppard, of the Metropolitan church, south side. At 8:30 the choir will be taken by J. E. Brown. The program will be as follows:

Anthem, and Chorus: "Kilomey," Metropolitan Choir. Bass Solo: "Asleep in the Deep," Hayden Morris. Violin Solo: Selected, I. M. H. Male Quartet: "A Catastrophe," McKeever, Berry, Tucker, Morris. Soprano Solo: "Carissima," Miss Kate Hamilton. Reading: Selected, Miss Jean Plante. Duet (tenor and soprano): A. S. McGowan and Hayden Morris. Trio: Selected, Misses Hayden Morris, Misses Hayden Sheppard, Hansen. Tenor Solo: "A Friend of Mine," J. E. Brown. Chorus: A. S. McGowan. Sketch: "A Case of Suspicion," The Swastika Class. Duet: "The Singing Lesson," Miss K. Hamilton and Hayden Morris. Chorus: "Gloria, Gloria," The Choir. GOD SAVE THE KING.

At the Highlands

The Highlands Tennis Courts are now in excellent shape for playing. The committee of management would be pleased to sign up as many members as possible at nominal fees for the season.

The Daily Poem

FROM THE TRENCHES

Voice of the winds be silent,
Give peace to my aching breast;
Still the sob in the song you're crooning
Of the trails that I rode in the West.

Trails that sleep deep on the prairie,
Trails that grow faint for the thread
Of the moss-covered foot of the Red-skin
Now plowing where Chieftains bled.

Trails that threw dust at the hoof-beats
Of my spirited prairie-bred mare,
As we loped through the Lonely Places
And scared the grey wolf at his lair.

Incidents, quests and adventures
Crowd to my tentative mind,
Binding the spell of the Lone Lands
Round a heart growing ultra-refined.

Sloughs where the wild-fowl roil,
Bluffs where the ruffed-grouse run,
Prairie-chicks, chipmunks and gophers,
The meadow-lark's song to the sun;

The she-wolf asleep in the hollow,
Her cub in the evening grass,
Deer creeping down to the lake-side
From the gloom of the mountain pass;

Floating white down from the maples,
The hush of the wind on the night,
The croon of the creeks in the coulees
Thrill the pulse of my soul with delight.

Lakes opalescent, reflecting
The pine trees and dim, purple haze,
The prairie—the sinister stillness—
The panic, the smoke and the blaze!

Then the stump-studded hills at sundown
Black on a flame-split sky,
When the coyotes link to the summit
And give tongue to their "yap-ah-ah-ah!"

It's a land that lures and claims me,
For I yearned to a strong man's goal
And staked on those hazy acres
The homestead of my soul.

O the voice of the West is calling
From the heart of her virgin loam—
With the promise of manifold treasures
She is calling, calling me Home.

TEACH DAUGHTERS TO DO COOKING

Mothers Should Do Other Things Than Teach Daughters To Play Piano.

Mothers should teach their daughters the practical side of house keeping instead of the fancy side, according to Rev. Oliver Horeman in his sermon on "Mothers; the Best Kind to Have Around Home," in the First Baptist church Sunday morning. He told of instances where he had seen the daughters playing the piano, arranging flowers and doing a little dusting while the mother was sweltering over the cooking in the kitchen. He should be just the other way around, he thought.

"A mother is a home builder," he said, and should understand practical housekeeping thoroughly without neglecting the spiritual side of her work. In regard to her children she should be a spiritual example for them.

TORONTO WOMEN LIBERALS.
Toronto, May 12.—The officers elected by the Ontario Women's Liberal Association for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Mrs. J. A. MacDonald; 1st vice-president, Mrs. H. Carpenter; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. G. G. Lindsay; treasurer, Mrs. Ross Stewart.

EVERYBODY HELP.
The Edmonton Board of Trade is doing everything possible to help get the C.N.R. to Whitecourt completed and it is up to us to do our bit at this end.—Wanlessville Correspondent in Whitecourt News Record.

ROAD TO GRANDE CACHE.
A five-mile road is being built by the provincial government from Entrance to the ferry across the Athabasca, for the accommodation of the settlement to the north of the river. The road is greatly needed, as this is the route to the Grande Cache and much of the country north along the foothills.—Western Leader, Edson.

WOMEN'S AILMENTS

Come From The Heart and Nerves.

Young girls budding into womanhood who suffer with pains and headaches, and whose face is pale and blood watery, will find Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills build them up.

Women, between the ages of 40 and 50 who are nervous, subject to hot flashes, feeling of pins and needles, smothering feeling, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, etc., are tired over this trying time of their life by the use of this remedy.

Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills have a wonderful effect on a woman's system, making pains and aches vanish, bringing color to the pale cheeks and sparkle to the eye.

The old worn out, tired out, languid feelings give place to strength and vitality, and life again seems like living.

BEVERLY NOTES

A goodly number of ladies braved the high winds of Wednesday afternoon to attend Mrs. M. J. Hummerstone's reception at the farm. The flowers and shrubs are peeping through with promise of a delightful surrounding for the garden party which Mrs. Hummerstone, in her usual generous way, is to give in aid of the Red Cross in the latter spring days.

Mrs. R. G. Hay will again receive on Friday, May 25th, at her home on Alberta avenue.

Percy Ellis and John Abbott, who have been working in Saskatchewan, have returned to Beverly and expect to remain here a few weeks before returning.

Mr. Frank Beaul and family moved to North Edmonton Wednesday. Mr. Ledoux has moved from Jasper avenue into Mr. Yoeman's house on Balmoral avenue.

Mayor Hay has received word that his son, Jack Hay, has been promoted to the rank of sergeant of the transport. Sergeant Hay is with the 47th New Westminster, B.C., battalion.

Pte. Ear Hay is one of the forty or fifty original Forty-niners who are still on active service. Pte. Hay has been through the heaviest fighting on the Vimy Ridge.

The Red Cross Circle No. 579 will meet at the home of Mrs. Hay, 118th avenue, Beverly, on Tuesday, May 15, at 2:30 p.m. All interested are cordially invited.

The true entomologist or the amateur insect collector could hardly find a better place to observe or make collection of insects than in Beverly. At present there is at evidence in the numerous forms of insect life in all the various stages. Here and there can be seen beautiful butterflies lazily flapping the air with their wings, some just having emerged from the chrysalis form. Moths, particularly the cutworm moths, are quite abundant also.

Small beetles and spiders are especially plentiful. There are also a few snakes have been observed along the river bank. When these spread out over the different parts of the town they will destroy a lot of the more noxious insects. A number of the pupils of the school are taking a keen interest in the different specimens of insects as, of yet, nets are not so very plentiful, most of the young naturalists have to use the net bag, thing, a hat, coat or handkerchief.

There is at present a larger amount of land being prepared for cultivation than there has been for years. Many people, satisfied other years with a small garden, have decided to enlarge the scope of their activities.

Many of the lots purchased at the tax sale are being prepared for crop and will, along with other gardens of Beverly, be forced to yield their share of what we hope will prove to be a bountiful crop.

Work will be commenced on the new municipal building the early part of next week. This building will be constructed by the present municipal buildings on Alberta avenue. In addition to furnishing the town with excellent offices it will also contain a spacious hall.

The heavy winds of the past week have helped to put all the roads in very good shape and have also dried up many of the wet spots in different parts of the town.

The play "Doctor Cure A" will be presented in the Beverly Presbyterian Church on Tuesday evening, May 22. This play is quite humorous and should afford a very good opportunity for the audience to relax their minds from the worries of the day.

As Arbor day was not a school holiday this year the regular school work was not interrupted during the morning. However, in the afternoon all, including teachers and pupils, worked energetically to put the garden in. This garden, it is hoped, will prove to be ornamental as well as valuable.

Mr. Gray, who was so unfortunate as to have his leg broken a short time ago, is improving and expects to be about on crutches in a week or more.

FISH TRAIN CREWS
Fifteen cars of Prince Rupert hall-bait, consigned to Chicago and points east, went through Edson on a special train on Wednesday afternoon. The increased traffic means a great deal, as it calls for extra train crews to handle the traffic.—Western Leader, Edson.

NEW YORK, May 13.—After a three hour conference here yesterday the National league club owners decided to adopt a policy of watchful waiting before attempting to grapple with any of the new problems resulting from the war and adverse weather.

The magnates discussed the proposed war tax, the drafting of players for the army, a later opening of the season, violation of the waiver rules, better telegraph facilities for the reporting of games, and a proposition to reduce the club rosters, but no definite action was taken upon any of these subjects.

It was decided to enforce the present rule limiting the number of players any club may carry between May 15 and August 31 to twenty-two, this allotment to include players either injured or sick. In case the army draft hits the clubs hard, exceptions may be made to this rule.

Several complaints of violations of the waiver rule were filed and it was announced that in future any club which attempts to pass a player into the minor leagues without first asking waivers upon him will be fined $250, in accordance with the rules of the league.

KOLEHMAINEN WINS
MODIFIED MARATHON

NEW YORK, N. Y., May 13.—James Kolehmainen, the Finnish distance runner, of this city, yesterday won the Evening Mail's seventh annual modified Marathon race of twelve and three-quarter miles in one hour, seven minutes and eleven and four-fifths seconds.

Last year he finished second, beaten by inches by William Kyronen, another Finn, who, wearing the colors of the Millrose A. A., yesterday finished second in 1:07:25. Charles Porges, of the same club, was third in 1:07:57, with James Hennigan, Dorchester A. A., Boston, fourth, in 1:08:30. These men were prominent all through the race, which began at the Bronx concourse and ended at the city hall.

Stories of Men Who Help to Make the Game.

In connection with the celebration of Hans Wagner's birthday anniversary in Pittsburgh an interesting story is told of how the veteran, then a rookie, got his first chance to show his stuff with the Louisville club. According to this story, it was on July 19, 1897, Ollie Pickering, then playing the outfield for Louisville, passed the umpire and was out of the game. "This is a mess," bemoaned the manager. "Now I haven't got anybody to jam into that outfield but that clumsy, low-legged rookie from Pittsburgh."

The "rookie" was none other than John Henry (Honus) Wagner, who was told to go play the outfield. From the moment Wagner made his big league debut he was a star. That first game stamped him as a fine fielder, a powerful, fearless batsman, and, despite his apparent awkwardness, a superb base runner.

Wagner got away to a sensational start. He hit safely in each of his first nine games, making out 14 safeties in 33 times up for an average of .424, before he was halted by Bill Kennedy. He scored his first run on July 21 and his first triple on July 22. The first of the 1900's was a Pittsburgh made during his 23 years as a big leaguer was driven out on August 27, off the delivery of Jack Dunn, then twirling for Brooklyn.

On July 22 Wagner figured in his first double play—a brilliant bit of work. One of the Bostonians fanned a long liner at the "Flying Dutchman." He appeared for it, and almost with the same motion that he caught it, shot it to Billy Clineham, who was playing third. Billy ripped it to Catcher Wilson, who tagged out the man.

Wagner went into that July 19 contest as a despised substitute. He emerged wearing the halo of greatness. He cost the Louisville club a few hundred dollars and, by his own wonderful playing, drew into the turnstile close to $1,000,000 over the span of 20 years. It was the playing of Wagner that was the real factor in swinging three pennants to Pittsburgh, the greatness of this one man that kept the Pirates in the fight for so many years; the love and esteem for this low-legged German that still brings crowds to see the Pirates, although four years they ceased being bunting chasers.

Wagner started as an outfielder, as has been told. On August 25, 1897, the regular second baseman of the Louisville club was injured.

"Do you think you can play second?" asked Wagner's manager.

"I'll try—and I'll do the best I can," was his modest reply.

Since that day Wagner has played every position on the diamond. Once, in an emergency, in the earlier days, he pitched a game—and won it. On

OMAR KHAYYAM
WINS KY. DERBY
IN GOOD TIMERunning Beautifully Down Stretch
Beat Out Favorite For Rich Stake.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 13.—In one of the most brilliant exhibitions of stretch running ever seen here Omar Khayyam, carrying the colors of Billings and Johnson, of New York, and trained by C. T. Patterson, won the forty-third renewal of the Kentucky derby at Churchill Downs yesterday before the largest crowd that has ever witnessed the event. The imported Marco-Lena colt carried 117 pounds and ran the mile and a quarter in 2:04 3-5. This is the richest stake for three year olds in America and was worth $10,000 net to the winner.

For favorite in the betting, Andrew Miller's Ticket, was second, two lengths back, with a length and a half separating J. W. Parran's Midway in third place.

Omar Khayyam began early, Jockey C. Borel restraining him from the early pace, but when called upon, turning into the stretch, he responded gamely and overtook his field one by one.

Ticket was well up throughout. He was the first to go to the front, but did not stay there long. Passing the stand the first time Omar Khayyam held tenth place. At the mile post he had moved up to sixth position. Turning into the stretch Borel took Omar Khayyam into second place with Ticket leading him by half a length. Ticket added second place to fourth place, the first coming Midway going into third position. At the eighth pole Ticket relinquished his lead to Omar Khayyam, who drew away. Midway closed an immense gap and took third place.

Omar Khayyam was given little backing in the pari-mutuels betting, a $2 ticket paying holders $27.00. First race, 2 1/2 furlongs—Prince of Como, won; Impressive, second; Gipsy George, third. Time 1:06 2-5.

Second race, 4 1/2 furlongs—James T. Clark, won; Kora, second; War Machine, third. Time 1:48 1-5.

Third race, 1 1/2 miles—Reamer, won; Ed Crump, second; Old Rosebud, third. Time 1:44 3-5.

Fourth race, 6 furlongs—Challiers, won; Kathleen, second; Old Koenig, third. Time 1:12 3-5.

Fifth race, mile and a quarter, the Kentucky derby, 2 year olds, $10,000 net—Omar Khayyam, won; Ticket, second; Midway third. Time 2:04 3-5.

Sixth race, 4 1/2 furlongs—Sixteen to One, won; Panette, second; Kilg, third. Time 1:54 3-5.

Seventh race, mile and sixteenth—Aldebaran, won; Redland, second; Penrod, third. Time 1:46.

several other occasions he went behind the bat. He played second frequently, was a star at first, occupied at third and in the garden. But it was at short that he rose to the supreme, it was there that he performed such wonderful feats and earned for himself the title "The super champion."

Since 1897 thousands have risen to big league heights; hundreds have flashed brilliantly for a while—and then faded and died from major league view. Wagner alone remains. And, fadom, as a unit, rises up and wishes him a life eternal in the big league realm that he has honored and glorified.

Crusade.

MINOT, May 13.—With one down in the last half of the fifth Sheriff McGinnis held today's game between Winnipeg and Minot long enough to have a warrant served for arrest on Manager Brantigan and Pitcher Burmen of the Minot team. The move, which was another step in the attorney general's raid against vice in Minot, was taken after Assistant Attorney General Brennan signed a complaint against the Minot baseball club for playing organized baseball on Sunday. The baseball promoters had anticipated such a step and had a number of men ready to act as bondsmen. Officers of the law, however, did not seek to disturb the game, so brought Justice Dill with them. Brantigan and Burden were called to the box office and appeared before Justice Dill. They were released on $500 bonds, $50 each, and the game, which Minot won, 10 to 5, was continued. Score: Winnipeg, .000 200 100—3 6 1; Minot, .000 300 114—10 12 9.

Sporting Facts and Fancies

Errors are responsible for many a man being benched, and that doesn't apply to baseball alone. Ollie O'Mara, who played shortstop for the Robins last year is finding that out.

Nemo Liebold is certainly making his way to the front. He has been holding down the right field position for the Chicago White Sox for some time now and all agree that he's doing mighty well.

The Athletics have about the largest pitching staff in the major leagues. Besides the pitchers whose retention during the season was recently announced, there may be added to the list the name of Seibold.

The Braves are again showing great superiority in the matter of pitchers. This will very likely keep them among the top liners in the matter of batting.

Sanders and Ring, two young pitchers who are being developed by Matty, are showing very well. Ring is a New York boy who received a trial from the Yankees last year.

The various pitchers who were heralded as stars and whose work last season brought them into the top-notch class, are not showing up so very well this year. Grover Cleveland Alexander, the famed twirler of the Phillies, has been trounced a few times. He has Dick Rudolph of the Braves and Eddie Cicotte has also tasted defeat.

The uncertainties of baseball have sent many a man to the hospital for the treatment of his nerves. Who would have thought a month ago, for instance, that the Tigers would be hanging around the cellar. The whole thing can be summed up in the well worn and oft repeated "You never can tell."

You've got to hand it to Hal Chase. He is playing the same fine brand of baseball that he used to show for the American League and displayed for the Cincinnati Reds last season. He was the first player in the National League to make twenty hits this season. His rival for the same honors, and who also got away with them, is Tris Speaker.

It was on May 14, 1893, that John L. Sullivan won one of his most famous victories in the ring when he defeated Charlie Mitchell in New York. The bout between the American champion and the clever English middleweight was staged in Madison Square Garden and attracted an enormous crowd from everywhere. Many Englishmen crossed the Atlantic to witness what was to be one of the most important events in ring history. Alas, their trip was a great extravagance for the battle lasted just three rounds. Although Sullivan followed his usual rugged, bluffing tactics, Mitchell refused to be intimidated and at one time it actually looked as though he were going to win, for he stretched the big Boston fighter on the floor with a terrific low to the jaw. Mitchell's smiling countenance and general air of certain victory enraged Sullivan and he went at the Englishman so ferociously that Capt. Williams, the referee, stopped the bout in the third round, although it had been scheduled to box four rounds. Not long afterward Sullivan and Mitchell were again matched to box four rounds in Madison Square Garden, but when John L. appeared in the ring he was barely able to stand up and announce that he was too sick to go on. John had the appearance of one who had had a hard bout with that champion of champions at the knockout game, John Barleycorn. Mitchell and Sullivan did not meet again until 1888, when they fought a thirty-nine round draw in France.

1902—Daniel Mendoza defeated Bill Ward in 23 rounds at Croydon, England.

1908—Joe Gans knocked out Rudy Uhlolz in the 11th round at San Francisco.

MCGINNIS WINS
DOUBLE HEADERWonderful Pitching of Old New Yorker Takes Two From Beavers.

VANCOUVER, B. C., May 13.—"Iron Man" Joe McGinnis gave a practical demonstration yesterday afternoon, at the expense of Bob Brown's Beavers, of how he earned that title, which has clung to him for many years, when he pitched and won both games of a double header, facing three of Brown's most promising young hurlers. The grand old man of baseball set the local youngsters down with one run and four hits in the first encounter and came right back and held them to two runs and eleven scattered blows in the second clash. The Miners took the first game by a score of 3 to 1 and the second by a score of 6 to 2.

McGinnis' performance yesterday will go down in history of North-western League baseball as one of the most wonderful feats of the season.

Nationals.

CHICAGO, May 13.—George Sisler, of St. Louis, has crowded Tris Speaker, of Cleveland, out of the lead for hitting honors in the American League, unofficial averages released today show. The St. Louis first baseman, driving out eight hits in his last five games, is leading with an average of .393, although Rousch, of St. Louis, a pinch hitter, batting seven times in ten games, has an average of .429. Speaker, the 1916 champion, has fallen into fourth place. The averages include games of last Wednesday.

Hoopoe, of Boston, is leading in runs scored with 19, and Chapman, Cleveland, in sacrifice hits with 12. Hohlitzel, Boston, and Cobb, Detroit, are tied for stolen bases with six each. St. Louis is out in front in team batting with an average of .255, having five hitters in the select .300 class. A dozen players are fighting it out for home run honors with one each.

National League

Jack Smith, St. Louis, is setting a merry pace for Rousch, Cincinnati, to maintain his position as the leading hitter in the National League. Smith is out in front with an average of .424, although he has made only 21 trips to the plate in twelve games, as against 42 trips to bat for Rousch, who is hitting .429. Cliff, Benny Kauff, New York, the former Federal League star, is now eighth in the list, as compared with fifteen a week ago. The averages include games of last Wednesday.

Sacrifice hitting honors are in possession of Whitford, of Philadelphia, who has nine to his credit. Zelevansky, Chicago, is leading in runs scored with eight, and Cravath, Philadelphia, is home runs with four. Groh, Cincinnati, leads in runs scored with seven. Zelevansky, New York, is leading in hits with 14. Both Zelevansky and Cravath are leading in batting average with an average of .266. Leading hitters:

NO HIT, NO RUN, NO
ERROR GAME PITCHED

SEATTLE, Wash., May 13.—A perfect shut out game, with no runs, no hits, no errors, and not a single Spokane man reaching first base, was pitched today for Seattle by Paul Strand, a southpaw, formerly a member of the world's champion Boston Nationals. The game is the first of its kind in the history of league baseball on the coast.

Seattle's play was errorless. Her one score was made in the sixth, when Zelevansky doubled and scored on a single by Cravath.

The Iron Trail

AN ALASKAN ROMANCE.

By REX BEACH

"Ellen!" She did not answer. "Child!" O'Neill's voice was shaking. "Why did you come to me? Why did you do this mad thing? I saw something in your face that I can't believe—that I can't think possible. It—it gives me courage. If I don't speak quickly I'll never dare. Is it—true? Dear girl, can it be? I'm so old—such a poor thing—you could not possibly care, and yet, why did you come? The words were torn from him; he was gripped and shaken by a powerful emotion.

She tried to answer, but her lips were powerless. She closed her eyes, and Murray saw that she was white as the foam far beneath. He stared into the colorless face upturned to his until her eyelids fluttered open and she managed to voice the words that clung in her throat.

"I've always loved you like this," he gave a cry like that of a starving man; she said nothing, but she was against him. But now he, too, was speechless; he could only press her close while his mind went groping for words to express the joy which was as yet unbelievable and stunning.

"Couldn't you see?" she asked, breathlessly. "I'm such a dreamer. I'm afraid I can't be true. I'm afraid you'll go away and—leave me. You won't ever—will you, Ellen? I couldn't stand that." Then fresh realization of the truth swept over him; they clung to each other, drunk with ecstasy, senseless of their surroundings.

"I thought you'd never for Natalie," she said softly, after a while. "It was always you."

"Always?" "Always!" She turned her lips to his and lifted her entwining arms.

The breakfast room had called the men away before the two figures far out upon the bridge picked their way slowly to the shore. The Salmon was still flooded with hurrying masses of ice, as it would continue to be for several days, but it was running free; the channel in front of the glacier was open.

Blaine was the first to shake O'Neill's hand, for the members of Murray's crew held aloft in some embarrassment.

"It's a perfect piece of work," said he. "I congratulate you on your feat. The others echoed his sentiments faintly, hesitatingly, for they were abashed at what they saw in their chief's face and realized that words were weak and meaningless.

Dan dared not trust himself to speak. He had many things to say to her, but his throat ached miserably. Natalie restrained herself only by the greatest effort.

It was Tom Slater who ended the awkward pause by grumbling, sarcastically.

"If all the young lovers are safely ashore, maybe us old men who built the bridge can go and get something to eat."

Murray smiled at the girl beside him. "I'm afraid they've guessed our secret."

"Secret?" Slater rolled his eyes. "There ain't over a couple of thousand people besides us that saw you poor old question. I know she was out of breath and couldn't say no."

Eliza gasped and fled to her brother's arms.

"Slip! Slip! Slip!" Dan cried, and two tears stole down his brown cheeks. "Isn't this—just great?"

Then the others burst into noisy expressions of their gladness.

"Happy Tom!" replied they all pessimistically. "I feel bound to warn you," he said at length, "that marriage is an awful gamble. It ain't what it seems."

"It is!" Natalie declared. "It's better, and you know it."

It turned out right for me," Tom acknowledged. "Because I met the best woman in the world. But—he eved his chief accusingly—"I went about it in a modest way; I didn't humiliate her in public."

He turned upon his companions, still pouring out their babble of congratulations.

"Come along, can't you?" he cried, "and leave 'em alone. I'm a dyspeptic old married man, but I used to be young and affectionate, like Murray. After breakfast I'm going to cable Mrs. Slater to come and bring the kids with her and watch her bed-ridden husband build the rest of this railroad. I'm getting chafed full of romance."

"It has been a miraculous morning for me," said Murray, after a time. "And the greatest miracle is—you, dear."

"This is just the way the story ended in my book," Eliza told him happily. "Our book."

He pressed her closer. "Yes! Our book—our bridge—our everything, Eliza."

She hid her blushing face against his shoulder. Then with a sudden finer direct "be our down to her lips. Summoning her courage, she whispered:

"Murray, dear, won't you call me—Violet?"

THE END.

Today We Celebrate

The Last Battle of the Civil War.

Probably few students of American history would be able to tell offhand where the last battle between the North and South was fought. The question has repeatedly come up during the debates in congress and the opinions of the scholars have held widely divergent views. The truth is that the final engagement was ended on May 14, 1865, in Western Texas, and is known as the battle of Palo Alto.

The battle began on the 13th, that is, fifty-two years ago yesterday. The battle was won by the Confederates, but the slaughter certainly an appropriate name for a warrior defeated the Union forces under Col. Barrett. Thirteen days later the Confederate army in the Lone Star State was surrendered by Gen. Kirby Smith and the great Civil War was over. The battle of Palo Alto, which was fought on a field where, in 1843, the battle of Palo Alto, the opening conflict of the war between the United States and Mexico had been waged.

A stretch of prairie about eight miles northeast of Matamoros, Mexico, flanked by ponds and made beautiful by tall trees was thus the scene of the first and last battles in which two of the memorable wars in which the United States has engaged. In the battle of Palo Alto Gen. Taylor, at the head of less than 2,000 Americans, inflicted a decisive defeat upon 6,000 Mexicans under command of Gen. Arista. After a fierce struggle lasting five hours the Mexicans fled in wild disorder, leaving hundreds of killed and wounded behind. The Americans lost fifty-three men, including the gallant Major Ringgold, commander of the Flying Artillery. Although Texas was the scene of the final battle it has been variously held that the war ended with the surrender of Lee on April 26 and of Taylor at Cuernavaca, on May 5. The government decided that the war was closed June 1, 1865, but in 1867 congress, to serve a certain purpose, placed the date at August 20, 1866.

A Great Comet Appears. Comet scores have been frequent since the dawn of history, but few of the celestial wanderers have caused more superstitious fear than the great comet of 1861, which was first observed by Galle, about, as Sydney Australia, fifty-six years ago today. By the latter part of June this great comet became visible to observers in America and Europe, and it was predicted by fanatical religionists that the end of the earth was at hand. On the last day of June a "phosphorescent auroral glare" caused some scientists to declare that the earth was in the midst of the comet's tail. The nucleus of the "great" comet was about four hundred miles in diameter, with a long, bush-like appendage, and was said to travel at a speed of 10,000,000 miles a day.

In the following year about the same time observers in Athens, Marseilles and Rome discovered another comet, which, in many respects, resembled the "great" comet of the year before, and fear again filled the hearts of the ignorant.

Whether or not the "great" comet of 1861 was responsible for atmospheric disturbances which affected the earth is a debatable question. Certain it is that on the day it was discovered considerable storms were recorded in many parts of the globe.

Little Stories of Big Men

Bishop Henderson

In the Methodist Episcopal Church there is no man who is better loved than Bishop Theodore S. Henderson, whose kindness and learning have not alone brought him to a high position in his own denomination, but who has gained the admiration of the clergyman and laymen of others. Dr. Henderson was elected a bishop at the general conference held in Minneapolis in 1912. He was born at Milburn, N. D., May 14, 1868, and he therefore today 49 years old. He entered the ministry in 1892 at the New York East conference. Bishop Henderson is particularly well known for his evangelistic work. In 1902 he organized the first annual conference commission of evangelism in New York East conference, and, as a result, the general conference at Los Angeles appointed a commission of evangelism in 1904. In 1906 Mr. Henderson was detached from the pastorate and became corresponding secretary of the commission and gave his entire time to this evangelistic work, which was an inspirational work among the annual conferences and colleges. At the general conference in 1904 he was appointed chairman of the special committee on evangelism. Since his elevation to the bishopric he has remained in charge of the evangelistic work of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

Today's Anniversaries

As everybody knows, the United States is the country which has more railroad mileage than any other. It is, therefore, somewhat surprising to learn that the first material for the building of such a road had to be imported from England. It was on May 14, 1829, that the ship Alexander arrived in the harbor of Baltimore from Liverpool with fifty tons of iron and equipment for the construction of the first railroad in the United States. Today things are changed. It is the United States which is exporting the road equipment all over the world. Other memorable events which took place on this date are:

1804—The Lewis and Clarke expedition left St. Louis for the northwest.

1832—Birth of James D. Cameron, secretary of war under President Grant.

1844—One hundred ships reported lost off the British coast in thirty days.

1884—Metropolitan National Bank of New York failed for $1,000,000.

London, at this time, in the year 1779, was laid with cannon and one of the most sensational love tragedies the city had ever seen. A little over a month before a handsome, well-dressed lady was sleeping in Covent Garden Theatre to take her coach when a young man in the dress of a clergyman moved abruptly toward her and, firing a pistol at her head, killed her on the spot. He immediately turned the weapon on himself but missed. Then he began to beat himself on the head with his butt. He was restrained, however, and taken before a magistrate. No more romantic story broke the dull tenor of English aristocratic life in the eighteenth century. The lady was Miss Roxy, well known as the mistress of the Earl of Sandwich. Miss Roxy was of humble origin but possessed great beauty. She bore four children to the earl, who treated her with great affection. Three years before the shooting a young officer named Hackman was invited to the earl's country home. The lady was Miss Roxy. For several weeks he contemplated suicide, his letters show, and then he decided to kill the woman he loved as well as himself. Hackman was hanged a few weeks later.

WAR PLANS UNDER COVER

London, May 12.—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram Company from Amsterdam says: "The Berlin newspaper Germania claims to have been informed from Bundesrat circles that during the discussions in the committee of foreign affairs and in the Bundesrat itself, the opinion was unanimously expressed that it would be impotently to discuss Germany's war aims in the Reichstag at the present moment."

KENSINGTON MEN SHOW FIGHTING ABILITY TO FOE

Once Again Have Londoners Fighting Largely on Nerve Gained Victory

War Correspondents' Headquarters, May 11, via London, May 12.—From Kensington Gardens to the fields around Arras is a far journey and a bad one, and it gave a queer kind of thrill yesterday to the correspondent as a man who used to walk every day through the old court suburb to hear how the Kensingtons had been fighting in this kingdom of hell-fire. The Kensingtons did well, said their general, and not only the Kensingtons, but a lot of London men belonging to the City of London regiment and other battalions recruited from the little houses in the London suburbs. In all the battles of this war the London men fought as well as any of our fighting men, from whatever part of the empire any came.

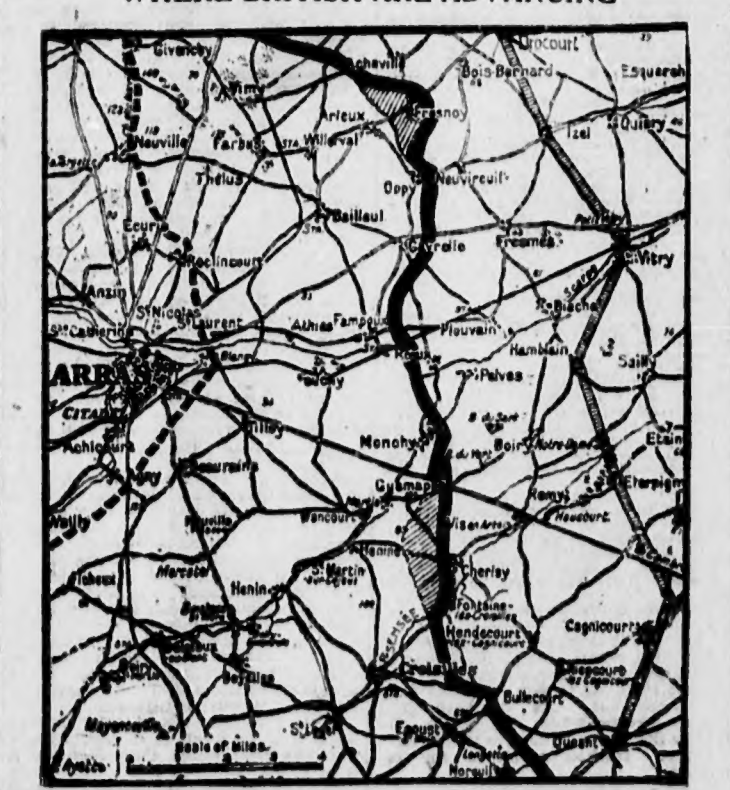

From one end of the front to the other, from the Ypres salient to the Somme, they have held lines and gone over barbed wire and through shell-splashed woods and proved themselves every time worthy sons of the great old city, which is London. They were not built for war. They have no use for it. They fight on their nerve, and imagination makes them more sensible to the foul and frightful things of war than other men of more solid framework. In their text books they behave like college men. There is never any crime among them as crime is defined in the military textbooks. Some of them are poets, in their spare time, and artists, and if there is a piano in the French billet there is always a London lad who can make it merry or sad. Next they have been "in" again—into the old fires and fury—and once again they have shown great and glorious spirit.

Splendid Episode

On April 9 the Londoners attack at dawn was one of the splendid episodes of the battle. They went through the German lines in long waves and crept forward like a living tide, very quick and very far, taking a thousand prisoners on their way. Later in the day they were held up on their right flank by enfilade fire while the troops on the right were in difficulties against uncut wire, and machine guns and from that time onward the London men had perilous hours of hard, costly fighting. They were forced to extend beyond their line on their left to join up a gap between themselves and the troops to the north and to work down with bombing parties on the right to gain ground in which the Germans were holding out desperately and inflicting many casualties on our men. In the evening the London men were expected to attack fortified villages from which machine gun bullets swept the ground and where our assault was checked by stout belts of wire with unbroken strands. It was in those hours of April 9 and 10 that many young London men showed the highest qualities of spirit, risking death and worse, than death with a most careless gallantry.

WHERE BRITISH ARE ADVANCING

It will be seen from the above map that the Bullecourt salient, where the heaviest fighting is now taking place, is a vital section of the western front. The French have made gains here as a result of the two-day battle. The Fresnoy sector, it will be noticed, was one difficult to hold.

Adventures of Uncle Wiggily

By Howard R. Garis

Uncle Wiggily and the Hot Sun

Copyright, 1917, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate

Uncle Wiggily Longears, the rabbit gentleman, was walking along through the woods one day, wondering what sort of an adventure he would have, when all at once he began to notice that it was very warm.

"My, how hot the sun is!" said Mr. Longears to himself. "Though it is only May it feels like August. I must get out my thin fur coat."

Then he hopped on more slowly, looking here and there for an adventure, until, at last, the sun became so very warm that the bunny uncle had to sit down under a tree, on a green, mossy log to rest.

"I never knew it to be so warm at this time of the year," he said. "Some one must have started up a new furnace fire in the sun, thinking we were going to be cold. Why, it is even all most too warm to look for an adventure! I guess I will not find any today."

But, hardly had he said that than, all of a sudden, he heard a little voice near him saying:

"Oh, dear! What a lot of trouble I'm in! I wish some one would help me."

"Ha! I'll help you, if you will tell me who you are, and what is the matter," said Uncle Wiggily politely.

"Well, I am a toad lady," was the answer, "and I am sitting right behind you. Excuse me for not coming around in front of you to talk, but I have caught one of my legs in a tight crack in the log, and I can't move. That is the trouble."

And stealing their hearts against creeping fear.

Jump on Machine Guns. A young subaltern saw those wires trailing in the center of the village and led the way to them with a party of bombers and Lewis gunners, smashing them up, and jumping on the machine guns beyond. It opened a safe to all the other Londoners, who swept through this village and beyond.

Many officers fell, but there was always some one to take the command and lead the men.

It was a boy of 19 who took command of one company when he was the only one to lead. He had never been under fire before and had never seen all this blood and horror. Now he led a company of fighting men who followed him as a great captain all through the day's battle, and from one German to another, and one village to another until all the ground had been gained according to the first plan.

INDIAN AGENT AT GROUND HAS FIRE

Stable, Horse and Other Belongings Consumed in Blaze of Unknown Origin

(Special to the Bulletin.) Ground, May 12.—The stables belonging to the Indian agent here, Mr. Laird, who destroyed by fire early Friday morning, was the loss of one horse, a supply of hay and some harness. Mr. Laird had a second horse in another building. The cause of the fire is not known, although there were several rubbish fires burning in the locality. Fortunately there was no wind blowing. The police department also suffered some loss as part of a hay stack belonging to them was burned.

Fire at Moose Jaw. At midnight last night, fire broke out in that portion of the Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron Company's plant, where the gas from straw retorts are being made and experimented with and the building was burned down. Although there were several rubbish fires burning in the locality, the cause of the fire is not known. The building was of light construction and burned like tinder and the firemen had little chance to get it under control.

Six Pure Bred Sires. Six head of pure bred horses, Percheron, standard bred and Clydesdale sires have been brought into the district recently—Hanan Herald.

ECZEMA ON FACE

Was So Bad Had to Stay in House.

All skin diseases such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, eruptions, ulcers, boils, pimples, etc., are all caused by bad blood, and while not usually attended with any fatal results, may sooner or later develop into some serious blood trouble, and the entire system become affected.

Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and well-known remedy, will cleanse the blood of all its impurities, and by this means cure all skin diseases and other blood troubles.

Mrs. Ernest Andrews, Hamilton, Ont., writes: "My face was covered with eczema and was so terribly bad I had to stay in the house. I had ten different doctors but got so tired of their treatment that I went and bought a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it helped me, so I kept on taking it. Now I am cured, and have a lovely skin."

"People who used to see me when I was so bad and see me now will not believe it. But I always tell them that nothing cured me but Burdock Blood Bitters."

B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co. Limited, Toronto, Ont.

"Oh, that is too bad!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I'll help you get loose!"

Then, with his red, white and blue striped rheumatism crutch, which Nurse Jane had gnawed for him out of a cornstalk, he pried open the crack in the log and the toad lady could hop along the store, where she was going when the accident happened to her.

"Thank you very much, for setting me free, Uncle Wiggily," she said. "It was a great favor, and if ever I can do you one I will."

"Please do not mention it," responded Uncle Wiggily, modest like, and shy. "But don't you find the sun very hot today, Mrs. Hip-hop?" for that was the toad lady's name.

"Oh, like it is!" she said. "Besides, if it gets too warm I can easily pick a toad-stool and use it for an umbrella or parasol."

"Yes, they are all right for you, but they are not large enough for me," Uncle Wiggily said. "However, I'll put on a thinner fur coat and then I'll be all right."

Soon he hopped on and the toad lady, the muskrat lady's housekeeper, was sitting out in the side yard, fanning herself with a burdock weed leaf tied to her tail.

"Aren't you afraid of getting sun-struck?" asked a little better girl who was flitting to the store to get a drop of honey for her father's dinner.

"Oh, no," answered the bunny uncle. "I always go bareheaded in summer. It makes my hair grow."

But soon it grew too hot for Uncle Wiggily to hop along any farther through the woods and over the fields looking for an adventure.

"I think I'll go back to my hollow stump bungalow," said Mr. Longears, "and eat some of my cherry pie. That ought to make me feel better."

But when he reached his bungalow he found it just as warm there from the hot sun. Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady's housekeeper, was sitting out in the side yard, fanning herself with a burdock weed leaf tied to her tail.

"This is very hot!" she said. "Aren't you agree, Uncle Wiggily?"

And the rabbit gentleman sort of sank down on the steps, and his pink nose hardly twinkled at all, while his whiskers grey very pale, and Nurse Jane, seeing him, cried:

"Why, Wiggy, how ill you look! Has anything happened?"

"I—I guess I was out in the hot sun too long with my hat on," he said. "It was stronger than I thought."

"And now you are sunstruck!" cried the muskrat lady. "Oh, that is too bad! I must send for Dr. Possum at once!"

Dr. Possum said Uncle Wiggily was touched a little by the sun, and told Nurse Jane that the bunny must be kept cool.

"Put him to bed in a shady room and keep rags wet in cold water over his head," said Dr. Possum.

But the sun shone so hot on the hot log stump that the room was very cool. The sun seemed to come in every window, and there was not a cloud in the sky to make it partly dark.

"Oh, for some cool shade like the woods!" sighed Uncle Wiggily. And just then it seemed as if the sun suddenly grew cooler. It did not shine down so glare and a misty shadow seemed to cover the hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, it is clouding up!" said Nurse Jane. "But when she looked out the little window she still saw sunshine. But the bungalow was in the cool shade, and then the surprised muskrat lady saw what caused it."

Over the roof were held about forty-leven-sixteen-twenty-one toadstools, making a big umbrella, that kept off all the sun so Uncle Wiggily would be in the shade and keep cool. And him hanging the toadstools over the bungalow were a lot of toads, among them being Mrs. Hip-hop.

"Uncle Wiggily did me such a favor getting me out of the log crack," said the toad lady. "I don't want to help him. So my friends and I picked the biggest toadstools we could find, and by holding them together this way, we can cover the bungalow roof and keep off the hot sun. We'll hold them there until Uncle Wiggily gets well."

So they did, the toads not minding the hot sun a bit, and the toadstools Wiggily cooled off. And that night Uncle Wiggily cooled off. And if the land-dryman doesn't take the dog's collar to make a necktie for the pussy cat's rag doll, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the hot sun.
